"The new Constitution is going to carry Hickman County by an overwhelming majority, unless all signs fail," says the Clinton Democrat.

The whining appeals made by some of the papers opposing the new Constitution for "fair play" are becoming monotonous. They abuse and ridicule the Constitution and its friends and then want "fair play."

"You can put me and old Kentucky down every time for Cleveland and Reform," was the remark of Governor Buckner to the New York Advertiser a few days ago. The Governor knows well enough that Cleveland is a big favorite in this State.

PRESIDENT M. E. INGALLS, of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company, is mentioned as a compromise candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Ohio. He could no doubt run the State government of Ohio as successfully as he has managed two of the greatest railways of the country, but it is extremely doubtful whether he would accept the honor of a nomination even if it were handed him on a silver platter.

The expenses of the last Legislature are placed at $150,000. It was in session 142 days, and the biggest part of the time it was frittering away the people's money on trivial legislation of a local character, much of which could be attended to by the county courts. Under the new Constitution the session is limited to sixty days, and this local or special legislation is prohibited. Thus will the people of the State be saved thousands and thousands of dollars.

The Louisville Anzeiger, the only German daily printed in Kentucky and one of the most influential German newspapers in the West, is outspoken and above board in the advocacy of the new Constitution. The German citizens are, as a general thing, in favor of the new instrument. They are property owners as a rule, and are always prompt taxpayers. They want good government, and they want the burdens of taxation equally distributed.—Louisville Post.

The saying that "some people want the earth" is illustrated in the case of Bardsley, the thieving City Treasurer of Philadelphia. Not content with the handsome salary attached to the office, he loaned the public funds to various banks and pocketed the interest amounting to $100,000 a year, and then stole about $1,000,000. Things went smoothly with him for awhile, but he has reached the turn in the lane, and his road from this time on is over a bed of thorns.

"COLUMBUS, in Hickman County, has headed off the restrictive provisions of the new Constitution by issuing $2,500 of its bonds for the purpose of taking stock in a large flour mill to be established there. Their is many an enterprise of this sort that would be nipped in the bud by Section 185 of the new Constitution."

The above is from the "In and About the State" columns of the Courier-Journal. Will the C.-J. please explain why the people of Columbus or any other town should be taxed to help establish a flour mill or any other private enterprise? Isn't that taxing the many for the benefit of a few? And hasn't the C.-J. been condemning just such a system for years in the fight for tariff reform?

Is our distinguished contemporary losing its Democracy?

HARRY COAN fell out of a tree at his home on Fourth street yesterday and badly fractured his left arm between the wrist and elbow. The bones protruded through the skin and his injuries are very painful. Drs. Owens and Pangburn set the fracture.

Whooping Cough.

"We have had an epidemic of whooping cough here," says A. B. Pope, Stewart, Tenn., and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been the only medicine that has done any good." There is no danger from whooping cough, when the remedy is freely given. It completely controls the disease. Fifty cent bottles for sale by Power & Reynolds.

THE ANZEIGER.

The Leading German Newspaper in the South in Favor of the New Constitution.

The Louisville German Anzeiger had a strong editorial in favor of the new Constitution Wednesday, June 17, and has promised to give a hearty support to the cause. It said:

"That our present Constitution is antiquated and, being insufficient for our existing conditions, imperatively calls for a revision, has been the almost unanimous opinion of the people of Kentucky for a long time; and this is shown by the many efforts, the constant endeavor which, for not less than twenty years, have been made for such a revision. * * * It was no slight, insignificant task which lay before the delegates of the people. They had to undertake the purification and restoration of the principles according to which our State should be conducted in order to avoid old errors and to add new safeguards made necessary by the changed times and conditions. * * * Then appeared the most contradictory and varied opinions. Many interested persons thought they deserved special care, and others claimed with tenacity the advantages which the old Constitution gave them without considering that, by these special favors to them, the interests of others were unjustly discriminated against. All things considered, it was a true labyrinth through which the convention had to make its way. That its labors were not so quickly done as some wished was only natural, but it was done at last, and after one hundred and ninety-nine days, the convention was able to lay before its constituents its work, the rejection or acceptance of which the sovereign people of Kentucky must decide upon at the next election. The first question which now presents itself is this: 'Is the new Constitution better than the old, and are the improvements such as to commend it to us for acceptance?' After mature deliberation we say: 'yes.'"

"We will not say by any means that the new Constitution is without any faults or is blameless in every respect. On the contrary, we frankly concede that it has many defects, but these defects are more than counterbalanced by the good; and he who considers the question without bias or sordid selfishness will concur with us in its desirability for the general good that the new Constitution should be adopted."

"After years of agitation, after many futile efforts have been made to settle this question, and now that the people have before them the work of their representatives—work that deserves to be called good and that has cost much time, money and care—it would be folly to reject the Constitution simply because one or another selfish interest is presumed to be injured by provisions that tend to the general good. It would be especially silly in this way to throw away the good with the bad, since the Constitution provides means for amendment to avoid real defects or hardships."

"The convention was not political. It disregarded all political disputes and sought only to give the State a Constitution which would bring the greatest good to the greatest number. That, on the whole, this was accomplished must be concluded. As already observed, it cannot be denied that many interests feel themselves injured by one provision or another, and therefore would like to see the whole Constitution rejected, but as to that, we must consider that that which is injurious to the individual, and which, therefore, from the selfish standpoint seems bad, is often of incalculable benefit to the people; and, besides, we must remember that the man is yet to be born who can make a thing right for everybody. If that is not even possible to our Divine Master why should it be expected of a representative assembly?"

Some Census Facts.

"The smallest county in the United States," said Robert P. Porter in a recent interview, "is Bristol, in Rhode Island, containing twenty-five square miles. The largest county is Yavapai, in Arizona. It contains 29,236 square miles, and is nearly as big as Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Vermont and Rhode Island together. Florida contains a greater area of water than any other State—4,440 square miles; Minnesota is next with 4,160 miles. The white people of the South are increasing in numbers faster than the colored people. Massachusetts has a greater number of cities and towns than any other State. As Chicago is the comet of American cities, so Illinois is the most rapidly moving planet in the constellation of States. Eighty years ago she was at the foot of the class, the twenty-third State in rank. Now she is third."

It May Make You Rich.

Say in your newspaper announcement just what you would say if you were to go personally to talk up your goods, and our word for it you will make of the newspaper a thousand fold better salesman, because it can present your announcement every day to 10,000 possible purchasers. The newspaper can do the work in a day that a hundred most efficient and active salesmen cannot accomplish. And the newspaper can save clerk hire and the soiling and spoiling of goods in the showing of them by telling customers beforehand just what you have. The newspaper will make you rich if properly utilized.—Nashville Banner.

Supper at Public Library.

Refreshments will be served at the Public Library Friday evening, 26th inst., from eight until eleven o'clock. The object is to raise funds for liquidating a small debt, and to further improve the Library. All are cordially invited to attend. 23d4t

LEWIS COUNTY DEMOCRATS.

Proceedings of Last Saturday's Convention at Vanceburg.

Pursuant to a call issued by the Democratic Executive Committee of Lewis County, the delegates selected by the various voting precincts met in convention at Vanceburg on Saturday, June 20, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Representative in the next General Assembly.

The meeting was called to order by Robert D. Wilson at 1 o'clock p. m., who, after stating the purpose of the convention, called for nominations for Chairman.

J. H. Thomas, of Burtonville, presented the name of Judge J. R. Garland, and no other names being proposed he was unanimously elected to the position.

The Chair now called for nominations for Secretary and W. B. Pugh being placed in nomination was elected to said position.

T. B. Bullock moved to make the temporary organization the permanent organization, which was done.

The Chair, upon the adoption of a motion to that effect, appointed W. R. Rea, W. E. Reed and James Chadwick a Committee on County Organization.

It was next moved and adopted that the delegates from the different precincts present their credentials to the Secretary for enrollment, which was accordingly done, and the Secretary's report of same, being read, was adopted.

The Chair declared nominations in order and Mr. A. D. Neal, in a short speech, presented the name of Hon. George T. Halbert, which nomination received several seconds.

After a call of the precincts for nominations by the Secretary, and no other names being presented, Mr. I. N. Lyon, of Tollesboro, moved to make the nomination of Mr. Halbert unanimous, which was accordingly done. To loud calls, Mr. Halbert responded and in his happiest style delivered a short, enthusiastic, Democratic speech.

The Committee on County Organization now reported and after the reading of said report by the Secretary it was adopted.

The new committee elected T. B. Harrison as Chairman, and James Gardiner Secretary.

A motion to the effect that the proceedings of this convention shall be published in the Vanceburg Times, Maysville Commonwealth and Maysville Bulletin was adopted, after which the convention adjourned, sine die.

J. R. GARLAND, Chairman.

WILL B. PUGH, Secretary.

RETSON MINING SALT COMPANY'S

ROCK LUMP SALT FOR CATTLE

To FARMERS, STOCK-RAISERS and OTHERS:

It is not generally known that the use of common loose salt for cattle, horses, sheep and hogs, is injurious to them, but such, however, is the fact. Their nature requires only so much salt as is absorbed by the saliva. By the ordinary method of salting, more or less of the loose salt is carried undissolved into the stomach, causing irritation to the membranes and coating. In many well authenticated instances the death of sheep, and attacks of colic and other difficulties in horses and cows have been traced to this cause. It is very desirable, therefore, that some method of salting stock be employed. The most suitable form of salt for this purpose is furnished by nature in the Rock or Mineral Salt, and the best possible method of supplying it to stock is to place lumps of it in the mangers and other places where it can be easily reached when required by them. It goes four times as far as common salt, and is cheaper at any reasonable price. Any stock will do 20 per cent. better by using our Rock Salt. They do not have that terrible thirsting for water caused by using common salt, which contains large quantities of lime and magnesia, our salt being the only salt known free from these impurities.

NEWS FROM LEWIS COUNTY.

The Bulletin's Weekly Budget of Items from Vanceburg.

VANCEBURG, June 24, 1891.

Correspondence of the BULLETIN.
H. C. Bruce and daughter, Elsie, left Tuesday for a visit among relatives in Missouri.

W. W. Magoon will attend the nuptials of Mr. J. B. Bryan and Miss Emma Louise Jenkins at Columbus, Ohio, June 25th. Mr. Magoon is to be the groom's best man.

Miss Pauline Jones has gone to Columbus to attend the above mentioned Bryan-Jenkins wedding. Miss Jones and Miss Jenkins are cousins.

Hon. Geo. T. Halbert was nominated by the Democratic convention last Saturday. If elected Mr. H. will make a valuable member of the Legislature. He represented the counties of Greenup, Boyd, Lawrence and Johnson in the Senate sometime in the seventies.

Miss Orta McKinney, of Sand Hill, while sitting on a veranda in front of her home last Wednesday, June 17, during an approaching storm, was struck by lightning and was unconscious for several hours afterward. She is improving slowly, and her physician believes she will fully recover.

The Children's Day exercises at the M. E. Church was held Sunday last, and the recitations, music and decorations were creditable alike to the children and those who had charge of them. The Presbyterian Church will give their exercises next Sunday evening. This feature of the Sunday schools is growing fast in popular favor.

The crop prospects are very good in this county. Wheat is above the average, the late rains have made grass good, oats are better than last year, corn looks fairly well and tobacco is doing nicely. The melon crop outlook is also promising. Fruit of all kinds in abundance in almost every locality, except the valleys back from the river.

The friends of the new Constitution are warm in their praise of the excellent support the BULLETIN has given to it. We have been making inquiry and thus far have found that the principal opposition comes from those who have not carefully compared the new with the old; and by corporations, such as railroads, banks, trust companies, etc. You can scarcely find a banker or bank stockholder, corporation attorney or officeholder, whose salary is lessened by the new instrument, but who are loud in their denunciation of it. If for no other reason this ought to put people of other vocations and professions to seriously thinking about the motive for organized opposition to the new Constitution. It might be pertinent to ask the Courier-Journal who paid, or is to pay, for the thousands of extra copies sent all over the State recently. The objection to the manner of amending the instrument is one of the flimsiest, and may be answered by saying that the present Constitution cannot be amended at all, legally.
